- Proper determination of the debit and credit sides
- Clear narration for future reference

Best practices: Always double-check the transaction description before recording. Use consistent account naming conventions. Ensure debits equal credits to maintain the accounting equation.

Postings from journal entries to ledger accounts must be meticulous. The key points include:

- Correctly transferring debit and credit amounts to respective ledger accounts
- Maintaining chronological order
- Properly updating running balances

Tips: Use ledger account formats or templates for consistency. Keep a detailed record of postings to trace errors easily. Cross-referencing with journal entries ensures no omission.

Challenges: Transposing figures incorrectly. Omitting postings for specific transactions. Confusing account types leading to wrong postings.

Practical tip: Use colored pens or digital highlighting to differentiate debits and credits during posting for clarity.

3. Trial Balance Preparation: Detecting and Correcting Errors

The trial balance consolidates all ledger balances to verify the equality of debits and credits. It is crucial for:

- Error detection
- Ensuring data integrity before financial statement preparation

Steps to prepare an accurate trial balance:

- List all ledger accounts with their balances.
- Sum total debits and credits separately.
- Confirm that both totals are equal.

Common errors to watch out for: Transposition errors (e.g., writing 540 instead of 450). Omitting a ledger account. Incorrect sign (debit or credit) in ledger balances.

Advice: Always cross-verify ledger balances before summing. Use calculator checks or digital spreadsheets to automate summations.

4. Adjusting Entries: Ensuring Accurate Financial Data

Adjusting entries are performed after trial balance to account for accrued or deferred items. Correct entries ensure that financial statements reflect the true financial position.

Typical adjustments include: Accrued revenues and expenses, Prepaid expenses, Unearned revenues, Depreciation.
